Greetings From Your Governor

As we celebrate the 25th Anniversary of the organization which Mary Lee Merrill began, we may look back on many good times together with cousins. This year is no exception as we have a wonderful reunion planned. We will be back in Massachusetts where our roots began. Our Pilgrim ancestors would be proud that we are celebrating our 25th Anniversary on the land on which they first stepped foot.

We will have a “meet & greet” pizza party on Wednesday evening, September 13, 2017. On Thursday September 14, Debbie Yingst and Fred Swegles will lead a car tour over to Barnstable to the Sturgis Library. There, the bible that belonged to Reverend John Lathrop with the candle wax drippings is a must to see. That evening is our social with cash bar, business meeting and plated dinner with Speaker Lew Taylor. Lew comes highly recommended by the Dennis Library. His topic of Mercy Otis Warren, will be most interesting.

On Friday, September 15, The climax to our reunion will be an hour long cruise to Nantucket Island, and a bus tour around the island. Topped off with lunch on your own on the island before the hour cruise back to Hyannis.

This should be a memorable reunion for all. The newly installed officers will be taking office January 1, 2018. I wish them well and hope they enjoy their term as I have.

Your cousin, Jane Engleman, Governor, The Fuller Society

Oh, The Memories!

by Debbie Yingst

As we prepare to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the Fuller Society, I thought it would be fun to update the article I wrote for the 20th anniversary and republish.

The weather does not always cooperate for our annual meetings. While we have had beautiful weather in Portland, Colorado Springs, San Diego and Sedona, we have endured rain in Washington, DC, Boston, Plymouth, Philadelphia, Charleston and Bennington. However, even the worst weather does not dampen the fun we have had just being together!

There were lobster bakes in Sandwich, MA and on House Island in Maine. We have eaten lunch on the grounds of the home of Todd Lincoln, on a boat on the Delaware River and in an airplane in Colorado. We've enjoyed a chuck wagon supper and western show at the Blazin' M Ranch in AZ and a wonderful musical comedy at the Iron Springs Chateau Dinner Theater in Manitou Springs, CO at the foothills of Pike's Peak which we ascended on the Cog Railway.

We've experienced the firing of the cannon at Fort William Henry in Lake George, NY, the flags flying in the breeze at Fort Ticonderoga, the eeriness of Fort Sumter, the history and ghost tours of Williamsburg, the JFK Memorial Library in Boston, John Adam's houses in Quincy, MA, the battlefields at Gettysburg and Saratoga, the splendor of the Grand Canyon, the thrill of the Verde Canyon train ride, the Amish ways in Lancaster, PA and have watched whisky being made the same way it was made in George Washington's time near his home at Mt. Vernon. Who could ever forget the pumpkins brought by Ralph and Cynthia Miller to Bennington, VT?

We've wandered the woods in a cemetery in Middleborough, MA searching for Rev. Samuel Fuller's grave, played bingo and Fuller trivia on bus rides as well as catching up on our sleep; danced while cruising the Delaware; we have worshiped, prayed, sang, laughed, cried together and have had such fun despite a government shutdown that effected our plans for the Washington, DC meeting and a wild fire in Colorado that destroyed the 60 year old Flying W Ranch where we were supposed to have dinner.

So many memories of places visited, but none more special than the remarkable people that I have met along the way.

Some of these people are no longer with us such as former Governor Elsie Wagner and her husband Alden, Webmaster Norma Heinman, Scholarship Chair Lewis Reid and Assistant Marilyn Pemrick. I know that many of you will never forget the meeting that Norma planned in Sedona, AZ. One of my all-time favorite annual meeting moments is watching Lew and Margie Reid dance as we sailed on the Delaware River at the Philadelphia meeting. A great inspiration and friend to me was Marilyn Pemrick. She displayed great courage and determination in attending the Charleston meeting in the last few weeks of her life before she was called home by God. Remembrances to my father, Jack Hoffman, without his love, support, guidance and genes (!), I would not be writing this nor would I have had the inspiration and determination to resurrect the plaque project for St. Mary's.

This would not be a complete story without me mentioning a truly remarkable lady, my dear friend and our founder, Mary Lee Merrill. I came to know her own perseverance with the St. Mary's plaque project through her correspondence with the past rector of St. Mary's. I am thankful that I did not read that correspondence until after the plaque was approved by the Church of England in 2010. Mary Lee's efforts were thwarted at every attempt for about seven years. While my experience did not even compare to that of Mary Lee, the two years I spent on the project was nerve wracking enough for me!

I would also like to acknowledge the long time service to the society of our former Treasurer and Scholarship Chair, Clara Deily. At this time in her life Clara is not able to travel. We miss seeing you, Clara and wish you all the best!

Are we just a social organization? No! The Fuller Society has placed Fuller commemorative plaques at the First Congregational Church and the Samuel Fuller School in Middleborough, MA, St. Mary's Church, Redenhall, UK and a commemorative brick in the Mayflower House walkway in Plymouth. A genealogical database with over 12,000 names was compiled with data submitted by our members by former Governor and Historian Jack Hoffman and Secretary Linda Hoffman. The information is now available on CDs. Scholarships totaling $1620.00 are awarded to Fuller descendant high school seniors to help with college expenses. Donations have been made to the General Society of Mayflower Descendants, Plimoth Plantation, the Samuel Fuller School at the Middleborough Church in MA and St. Mary's church to help with the restoration of a beautiful stained glass window. All of these missions have been accomplished without ever raising dues! (Cont'd on page 7)

News from St. Mary's Kedenhall by Brenda Legrys

Dear Fuller Society,

Last year the Friends of St. Mary's decided that in order to give our wonderful building a future we must provide the facilities that people expect; we cannot afford to build a toilet so we installed a portable one.

This year we removed 6 pews at the front to provide a space, which was used to good effect by a 21 piece wind band last weekend and will be used for a play reading this weekend. A concert of Early English music is planned for September.

Weddings have become fashionable again this year – we've already had 2 and another 6 are planned; St. Mary's really comes alive on these occasions, with all the people, the organ and the bells.

Everything that brings people in and keeps us on the map is very welcome.

Our Quinquennial Inspection is due in 2018; it will provide a thorough survey and we await the Report with some trepidation.

Adrian and I wish you well; we pray for peace on earth and goodwill among all men.

With best wishes to you all,

Adrian and Brenda

Editor's Note: Brenda let me know that she found the following in the Visitors Book at St. Mary's church:

"Sunny and Paul McCauley, visiting my Fuller ancestors".

Sunny is a member of the Fuller Society!

What will the Fuller Society accomplish in the next twenty five years? First, we must find ways to entice the next generations to become actively involved in the society or the Fuller Society will cease to exist. There are challenges to face with the economy and at some point we may need to vote to change our Constitution so that we are not required to meet annually or raise dues.

Like my father before me, I have enjoyed being a member of the Fuller Society and serving as Governor, Deputy Governor, Treasurer, Historian, Webmaster and Newsletter Editor. I urge you to think about the future of the society and to consider becoming actively involved whether it is attending the Annual Meeting, contributing an article to the newsletter, volunteering to be the next Newsletter Editor or serving on the Board of Assistants.

What is next for you and the Fuller Society? I hope YOU will answer with your support!
